Older Gould Pupils Meet

On Wednesday, August 5, 1953 an informal luncheon was served at Bethaven Inn, Bethel, Maine to some of the old-time Gould Academy pupils. It was planned by the pupils of 1889 though Grace Chapman Gould was the only actual graduate of that year when Mr. Dresser, Mr. Linscott and Miss Wingate were teachers. Those present at the luncheon were:

Charles Valentine, Bethel, Maine, aged 88, old man present. Frances Carter, Bethel. Alice Wilbur Clark, (Mrs. Alfred), Bolster's Mills. Alfred Clark, Bolster's Mills. Mary Hutchins Clark (Mrs. Wallace) Bethel. Alfretha Farwell Edwards (Mrs. Delmar) 52 Clearway St., Boston. Susan Frost Edwards (Mrs. Fred L.) Bethel. Ruby Clark Eldredge (Mrs. William F.) 82 High St., Rockport, Mass. Rena Merrow Foster, (Mrs. Albert F.), 35 Rockwell Ave., East Milton, Mass. Alice Chamberlain Gehring (Mrs. Edwin) 284 Ocean Ave., Portland, Ed. win Gehring, Portland. Grace Chapman Gould (Mrs. Oliver C.) 30 Gould Rd., South Portland. Archer Groves, 27 Pleasant St., Hallowell. Hatlie Harris, Bethel. John Harris, Bethel. Sarah Bryant Knight (Mrs. Walter), Bryant Pond, aged 85 oldest lady present. Grace Grover Skillings (Mrs. Herman), Bethel. William A. Valentine, 1933 Parrish St., Philadelphia, Pa. Emma Jones Van Den Kerckhoven (Mrs. Alphonse), Bethel. Mary Chapman Wilson (Mrs. John H.), Bethel. Dana Grover, Bethel.

Average age 81 plus. The oldest 88, youngest 75.

Letters were read from Harry Rowe, East Stoneham, Maine, R. D. 1; Stella Packard Mower, (Mrs. Archie), Pleasant St., Auburn, Maine; Nathan Grover, 4505 Dexter St. N. W., Washington 7, D. C.; Ethel Walker Metcalf, 22 High St., Farmington, since they were unable to be present, also verbal messages from Miss Hall, a former teacher and Agnes Kimball Gilman.

Kimball Ames, secretary of the Board of Trustees, brought greetings from Gould Academy.

WHAT IS SAFE SPEED?

"What is a safe speed?" Captain deWinter, Director, Division of Traffic and Safety, Maine State Police, suggested today that, in trying to determine the answer to the above question, our thoughts might better be concerned with "stopping distances" rather than "miles per hour."

"After all," he pointed out, "when an emergency arises on the highway, it's stopping distance that really should be our measuring yardstick. In a tight squeeze, we either have enough leeway, or we have misjudged our distance from another vehicle, an object, or a person...and get into trouble."

"Let's change our thinking," he added, "to consider our margin of safety at certain speeds. At forty miles an hour, the average driver needs 143 feet to bring his car to a stop—with good brakes and on dry pavement. At sixty miles per hour, under similar conditions, the distance required is 317 feet."

"Thinking of highway speed in these terms," deWinter concluded, "makes us more conscious of how difficult it is to bring a car to a quick stop in an emergency."

Phillips Brooks is relieving agent of the South Paris station this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lavorgna of Bridgeport, Conn., were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Lavorgna's cousin, Francis Noyes, and family on Vermont Street.

TO COMPLETE BAZAAR PLANS AT MONDAY MEETING

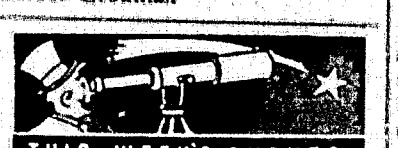

The final planning meeting for the 5th annual Bazaar will be held next Monday, August 10th, at the Legion Rooms at 8 p. m. All organizations are asked to have a representative present to report their plans and complete the final arrangements for the Bazaar.

Several have announced their intentions of entering into the float parade, while many a family is already planning how to decorate their trucks, bikes, etc. It is hoped that the parade will be bigger and better than ever. There will be cash prizes for the floats, prizes for each of the children's divisions, and every child that is costumed and enters the parade will receive a small gift. The parade is to be in charge of Mrs. Francis Noyes, assisted by Mrs. Charles Freeman and Mrs. Rodney Eames.

There are still several games available, as well as the hot dog and hamburger booth. We sincerely hope that some person or groups will sign up for them and help make this bazaar more successful than ever.

The money is to be spent all on our young people, whether directly or indirectly, since it was voted at the first meeting to allot the usual $150 for the Fourth of July, 1954, the balance for the improvement of the new Crescent Park School Grounds.

COMMUNITY ROOM CLEAN-UP IS UNDER WAY

The Community Room has been cleaned by a small group of women aided by some Boy Scouts and their leader, Charles Helms. The rubbish has been hauled away, 16 new chairs purchased for the room and the next project is to be the painting of the ceiling. It is hoped that this will be done the last of this week, weather permitting. After that the floor is to be sanded again and the toilets and water pipes repaired. The room then will be in good condition again and will be ready for the Bazaar to use. Much thanks should be given to those who worked all day in the extreme heat to accomplish this.

When the cleaning was done all the drawers and cupboards were straightened out and marked as to contents. The committee would like to announce that there is a great deal of music, some tapes and caps, that belong to the old Bethel Band stored up there. They were aired out and repacked carefully. Anyone having some of the other uniform parts and wishing to have them put with the others can give them to any Community Room Committee member and they will take care of them. It would be fine to get them all back together and taken care of in case the band might be revived some time.

Bethel Legion Team Wins 2 State Games

The Mundt-Allen Post baseball team was runner-up to Manchester Post of Westbrook for the state championship in a tournament played at Togus over the week end. Bethel won its first two games. In Friday's game Presque Isle was unable to stop our boys and the score at the end of the ninth was Bethel 20, Presque Isle 10. Saturday Bethel defeated Westbrook by the record score of 23 to 11.

On Sunday Westbrook and Bethel played again. This time Bethel lost 6 to 3. It was a splendid, courageous game. Then on Monday Westbrook finally won the title by defeating Bethel 8 to 2. The final state standings are:

| | Won | Lost |
|--------------|-----|------|
| Westbrook | 3 | 1 |
| Bethel | 2 | 2 |
| Winthrop | 1 | 2 |
| Presque Isle | 0 | 2 |

During the series Bethel's team batting average was .300. Individual records will be published later. Our team set several tournament records. The most prized will be a triple play from White to Batherson to Onofrio. It was the only triple play in the history of the tournament. During the series the team also made several double plays.

John Chase and Dick Batherson were given honorable mention as the most valuable player. Richie Onofrio received for the Post the runner-up award from the Ford Motor Company. It was a handsome plaque. The team trophies are to be presented when the Post has its banquet honoring the players.

LOOKING AHEAD
by GEORGE S. BENSON
President, National Service

A National Service

In recent years thousands of our businesses, industries and organizations have devoted considerable time and thought to bringing about a better understanding of the difference between private enterprise and Socialism. Some have started economic education programs among their employees, some have produced motion pictures spotlighting the advantages of the American system and the truth about Socialism, some have sponsored Americanism radio programs. The Warner & Swasey Co., of Cleveland, which manufactures machine tools, has distinguished itself with a national newspaper and magazine advertising program.

The Warner & Swasey ads use a few simple words and examples to get across vitally important comparisons between our private enterprise system and various forms of Socialism. From the scores of ads published in the past five years, I've selected a few excerpts each of which dramatizes a fact Americans should know and never forget.

Potato Profit

"Somebody ought to speak sharply to Nature."

There's a lot of loose talk these days about profits, attacking them as though they were evil. The very existence of the world depends on profits; the improvement of the world depends on big profits. A farmer plants one potato and usually gets back 15. Even allowing for all his costs, that's more than 1000 per cent profit. He plants one pound of corn and gets back 800 pounds—that's 80,000 per cent profit. These are big profits. Is that bad?

"Should the farmer be scorned as a profiteer? Should his 'excess' profit be taken away from him? Should he be told that from now on he must 'live' his profit to say, 6 per cent? To legislate against profits is as silly as to legislate against things growing."

Security Available

"Want security? Throw a brick through a window—you'll get it fast. Three meals a day, free. No taxes. Free housing, free clothing, free medical care. No worry about your future. But they order, or else stand up to be counted! March in line! No back talk! Do what you're told! Jail, beatings, Communism! The Welfare State! They're all the same—same 'benefits,' same obligations, same 'rewards,' same payments."

"There's a law against corporations becoming too big. It is the law of supply and demand. The minute a company makes too much money competitors rush into the business. The minute a company stops giving you sound values, the most for your money, you buy somewhere else or do without. And that brings that company down to size in a hurry. Of course, if a company does give you the most for your money, and does grow as a result, that's all right, isn't it? Or would you rather see the big concerns cut down and penalized? You're the one that's penalized in the long run. Growth is what built America. Growth is the only thing that can make more and better jobs and values."

Keeping Our Strength

"America's trouble is getting old. Machines make a nation strong—machines that produce weapons for protection and the things people need for living. America's machines are getting old, at 43 per cent of all machine tools are at least 10 years old. For years, obsolete machine tools have made it impossible for most companies to set aside enough out of earnings to keep their machines modern. Slabby machines can turn a cheap into a hard-bitten. Don't let it happen here."

"Under Communism before 21 years of it, and even before war-time socialism a worker has to work 50 days to earn one pair of shoes. In America, a worker earns a better pair of shoes with 8 1/2 hours of work. There is the whole truth about the two systems. Yet the communists say they want to bring communism here to benefit

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

HAROLD MOSS, 4034 Michael Avenue, Venice, California, had become a perfectionist when he started on a new job. He was very intent on making a success, and the work was not too difficult. But because he was so afraid that he would "blotch" something up, he was worrying about the job twenty-four hours a day. The production and efficiency of his department was in good shape but only as the result of tireless effort and strain. He was tired so he became grouchy and cranky. He could hardly sleep.

One afternoon he went home and found his wife still doing the housework. He commented sarcastically on the way she was doing her work. Evidently she had had a rough day with the kids and his remarks were inappropriate. That was all she needed to hear. She pointed at him and said with emphasis, "Listen, Buster!" (He says he never could quite figure out why she called him Buster) "you're not running a production line here, watch out who you're talking to."

CARNEGIE

That did it. He was stunned for about fifteen seconds, and then the entire situation dawned on him. He wasn't running a production line at work either. He had six leadmen to do the job for him and yet he was still trying to do it alone. For the remainder of the evening he analyzed his problems. What he discovered was that he was worrying about the problems that belonged to his lead people.

During the next week he removed the majority of the load from his shoulders. He distributed the work where it rightfully belonged. Since then he has ceased worrying and started living, and oddly enough the production and efficiency of his department has improved considerably.

For peace and quiet on the home front, he also learned never to tell his wife how to do the housework.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual - National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

It is and but true that the Administration has found the budget problem an even tougher nut than was expected. Hopes for an early balance of the budget and general tax reduction have faded like cut flowers in the sun. The Administration's supporters naturally attribute this, in large part at least, to the fiscal dirty work done by Mr. Eisenhower's immediate predecessors. Gladfully the Administration's opponents say that it is proof that the campaign pledges made by the victors were deceitful and impossible to realize.

Be that as it may, even the most earnest seekers of tax reductions, Senator Taft among them, now say gloomily that they don't know when cuts can be made. It is commonly said that the big trouble is that major slashes must be primarily applied to military spending. And, in the present state of world affairs, the lawmakers are very wary of taking any chances with the defense net-up.

There is another phase to the matter, however, which is getting

CONGRESSIONAL

Q—What region, as represented in Congress, has supported President Eisenhower most strongly?

A—According to a Congressional Quarterly analysis of roll-call votes through June 23, Eastern Senators and Representatives have most consistently stood "with" the President in votes on issues clearly related to his program and leadership. Mr. Eisenhower's steepest opposition on major "test votes" has come from Southerners in Congress.

Q—Has Congress rejected any of President Eisenhower's specific proposals?

A—By the end of the first six months of the year, just one had been rejected. (Others had not yet received final Congressional action.) In his State of the Union message Feb. 2, Mr. Eisenhower requested a Congressional resolution nullifying commitments "in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments which permit 'entanglement.' Consideration of the resolution became entangled in a dispute over wording—Democrats opposing possible interpretations that Congress would be criticizing foreign policy under the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations—and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tabled it March 10.

Q—How was the power of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff increased by the Defense Department reorganization, which became effective June 30?

A—The Chairman, under the new plan, is responsible for managing the Joint Staff, a group of officers upon which the JCS depends for preliminary studies and recommendations. Under the old set-up, the four-man JCS was collectively responsible for the Joint Staff. (Copyright 1953, Congressional Quarterly)

Scanning the NEWS

THE excess profits tax, which the Senate and House have extended for a month period after strong administrative pressure, is one of the most controversial and little known of our federal levies. Even the Eisenhower administration, while insisting upon it, called it a "necessary evil."

Here are its basic facts: Who pays it—Less than 12 per cent of the nation's 424,000 corporations with taxable income.

How much money will be raised by the six-month extension—About $500 million will be added to the government's till in fiscal 1954.

How do corporations compute the tax—They figure earnings during 1940 through 1949 and report average earnings during the three most profitable years of that stretch. Eighty-three per cent of that average is "normal profit" Congress decided. Earnings over that amount are liable to the excess profits tax of 30 per cent. This is on top of regular corporate income taxes.

What is the purpose of the EPT—It was designed to limit the profits of businesses involved in defense work.

What percentage of corporation tax receipts comes from the EPT—The Ways and Means Committee estimated $2 billion out of a total take of $23 billion in corporate taxes came from the excess profits levy. That's about 8.7 per cent.

Why was extension urged for what Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey called a "bad tax"—It will help shrink the deficit of the year.

The American people will forever need to be reminded of facts like these; it is all the more necessary today when the twin epidemics—Socialism and Communism—seek, by trickery, to infect the world.

A PRAYER

O God, with all You've given me
Of talent and of skill,
May I have strength, yet humble
be;
May I be firm of will,
And make of my ability
The most, to serve Thee best—
But, Lord, may true humility
Come first, above the rest.

—Carl G. Helm

Increasing attention now, though little has been done about it on a high government level. That is the extent to which government is participating in commercial business activity—often at a heavy loss. It's a good bet that relatively few people realize just how big an operator of business government has become.

Time magazine featured a revealing article on the subject in its July 13 issue. It begins: "How far has 'creeping socialism' crept? Farther than most businessmen think. The astounding fact is that the U. S. Government is now operating some 100 separate types of business enterprises in which it has sunk at least $40,000,000,000. Among other things, the government has become the nation's largest insurer, electric-power producer, lender, land-lord, grain owner, warehouse operator and ship-owner. It monopolizes the world's biggest potential new industry: atomic energy."

In some cases, Time continues, government went into business because of compelling national security reasons—atomic energy and synthetic rubber are examples of this. But government makes many a product—often at a cost higher than that which private enterprise could and would supply the product—which is in a very different category. Paint, rope, and boxes are examples in this field.

Time goes on to list some of the unnecessary losses that government operations entail. It owns 122,000 housing units and operates them at a loss. It spends an average of $225 a lot to store the property of overseas servicemen in its own warehouses, whereas private warehouses, which have plenty of available space, could do the job for $97 per lot. In order to reclaim scrap iron, a naval air station spent $30,000 to install a press, even though there was a bigger private press nearby which could have taken care of all the scrap the base had in 10 days time. More than $43,000 was spent to haul scrap iron valued at about $4,300 from Alaska to California.

So it goes, down an apparently almost endless list. Time's conclusion seems to be very much in point: "When there is a will to get the government out of business, it can unquestionably be done. To do so, the new Administration will have to overcome all the resistance, obstruction, delay and evasion of the bureaucracy-at-bay. . . . But the further it gets into the problem, the sooner it will learn that the only way to stop government in business is to stop it."

GRASS ROOTS OPINIONS

New Martinsville, W. Va., Wetzel Republican: "The general economic level of Europe and Asia is better than it was before World War II. American taxpayers have been milked of $20 billions by the rest of the world. We think it's about time to turn the cow out to pasture and start being concerned about this country for a change."

Blanchester, Ohio, Star-Republican: "It is obvious that if atomic power is to be used to increase the standard of living and bring the blessings of cheap power to millions, civilian industry must be allowed to participate in its development."

Mount Vernon, Wash., Daily Herald: "After being taxed to death on everything possible, nothing could be more unpopular than postage increases, affecting everybody. Congress could save some money by cutting out the trainloads of free postage, much of which is pure trash, sent under Congressional franking privileges."

Perris, Calif., Progress: "For some reason or other, all socialists, whether of the mild New Deal variety or the virulent Russian Communist variety, have a positive mania to regulate everything and everybody."

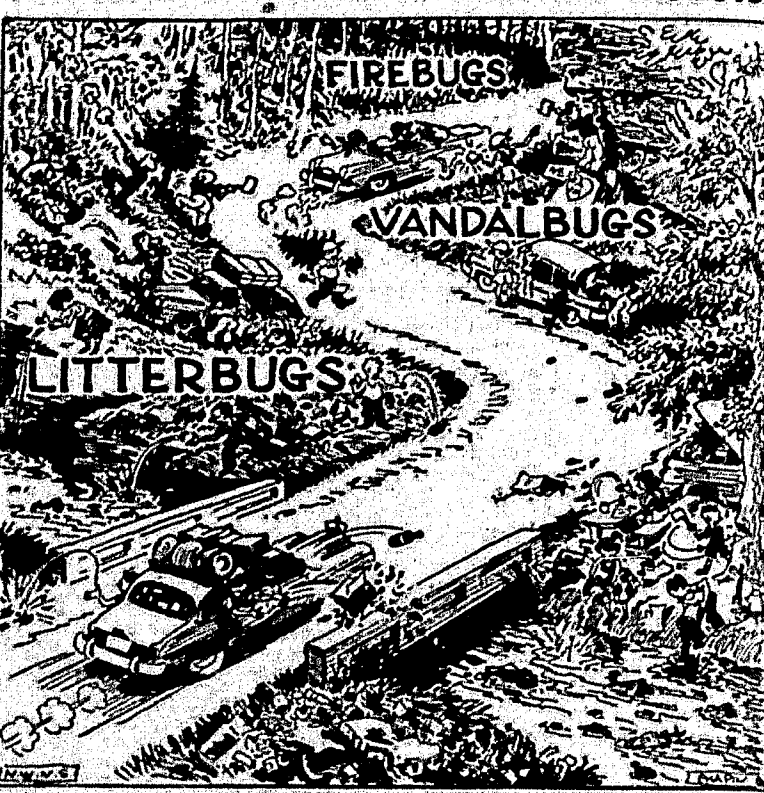

WORTH REPEATING

"Keep in mind the fact that all of the privately-installed and produced power is paid for with private money and pays heavy taxes—while all of the government power is paid for with our tax money and is wholly or largely tax free."—Dover (N. H.) Foster's Democrat.

"When government goes into business, the effects are not limited to the particular state or region in which the business in question is situated. Socialized industrial development hurt us all. Private enterprise development helps us all."—Bath (Me.) Times.

"The Eisenhower program is to cut back slowly, assuming full responsibility for the left-over programs of the last administration, and aiming at budget balancing by the end of the present fiscal year."—Boston Herald.

ANOTHER INVASION OF SUMMER INSECTS

ACROSS the DESK

ideas from other editors

From the Clinton County Republican-News, St. Johns, Michigan: Anyone who has seen hard, dry wheat straw on a Michigan field, sprout into golden grain, and then transformed into life-giving bread must believe in God. Such a miracle could not happen without the aid of a force much more powerful than man has been able to devise.

It was probably with such a thought in mind that some members of the Texas Restaurant Association have decided to place on their tables cards which bear the thanksgiving before meals prayers of the Catholics, Jews and Protestant faiths.

In a great many homes, especially where there are small children, the matter of "saying Grace" is a family rite. But few people say Grace when they go to restaurants.

The restaurant operators are asking in effect: Why should this be? To paraphrase a childhood poem, is not God in the restaurant, just the same as in the home?

So the restaurant operators are putting on their tables printed cards which bear the lovely words of thanks of the three major faiths. They are:

Catholic: "Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty. Through Christ our Lord. Amen." Jewish: "Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord, our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

Protestant: "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' Name. Amen."

From the Cedar Rapids Tribune, Cedar Rapids, Iowa: A very interesting statistic popped up last week in an otherwise lackluster column. The figure is 75 per cent and it represents the percentage of workers who voted last year in National Labor Relations Board elections to have unions represent them.

The idea that unions are somehow and in some sinister fashion foisted on reluctant workers does slowly. But this simple majority, this 75 per cent figure, helps the old misconception toward the grave. Unions, after all, represent the most democratic, the most effective, and the most peaceful intermediary in helping to determine the fair distribution of the national product. And most workers know it.

An out-of-state motorist reported that the occupants of a Maine car, which was preceding him on the highway, tossed out a continuous stream of refuse. Two or three times he was startled by wax paper and fruit skins which blew against his windshield. Our State Police remind us that such highway conduct is highly discourteous. They ask us to keep refuse until we can dispose of it without insulting other people and without leaving a mess on the highway.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, August 6
I will say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth. (Luke 11:8) Read Luke 11:1-8.

ONE day a father was in his study reading, and his little son was playing with his blocks.

Suddenly the little boy said "Daddy, I want a drink." He went on playing with his blocks, and the father went on reading. Soon, again the boy said "Daddy, I want a drink." Still he kept busy with his blocks. The father kept on reading.

Presently the boy arose, put his hand on his father's knee, and said, "Daddy, I DO want a drink!" He had become in dead earnest in his asking. Of course he got his drink.

If in our asking of our heavenly Father we have but a half-hearted attitude, why should God listen? So often we are so busy with our pleasures, our business, our non-spiritual things, that our asking is lukewarm. But when we are as dead in earnest as to put away other interests and to beseech God fervently and to put into action the prayer of our heart, God knows we are ready for His answer.

Prayer
Our Father, help us to realize our needs, and to know that when we truly desire help, Thou art always ready to help us. Teach us to pray, in Jesus' name. Amen.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper
The Christian's War (Temperance)
Lesson for August 9: Ephesians 10:20; Romans 14:12-21
Golden Text: Romans 14:21

This lesson is a fine example of the fact that evil can and should be overcome with good, and that the good can supplant the bad. Men are to put on the whole armor of God in battling the foes that contend for the mastery over them.

Paul shows that he is familiar with the arms and accoutrements of the Roman soldier. From that soldier he draws a picture of the Christian warrior. His girdle must be the truth, his breastplate righteousness, his sandals the preparation of the gospel of peace, his shield faith, his helmet salvation, and his sword that of the Spirit.

Along with these, there must be constant dependence upon the Higher Power. Verse 18 is ample proof of this.

And Christians are admonished to follow after those things that make for peace. Beverage alcohol is surely not one of those things. In Paul's time, there was a question that proved quite troublesome among converts—the question of eating meat that had been offered to idols. In respect to this, Paul urges that men abstain from the use of such meat if in eating it they might make others to stumble. He also (verse 21) enlarges his admonitions to include wine. What would he write, if he were living now, of distilled beverages?

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
The Bible
Out of the depths I cry to Thee, O Lord; O Lord, hear my voice!—(Psalm 124, 1)

Deep within himself, each of us will carry a hidden grief that no friend can comfort and no physician can heal. Let us remember, though, that our Heavenly Father, through Christ the Redeemer, will hear our prayers, will forgive us again and yet again, and heal with the peace that passeth all understanding.

TRIPLE ACE... Capt. Joseph McConnell, Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., is first Korea triple ace, having shot down 16 Red MiGs.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

If you're starting a vocal career, the latest dope is to skip the business of moons and Junes and sing about potatoes and tomatoes from a vegetable truck in Philadelphia. . . . You may find yourself the star of a musical show like "Coke Time With Eddie Fisher" heard every Monday and Thursday evenings. . . .

Naturally, nothing happens that fast, not even in the world of make-believe, but Eddie was singing along side his father on their vegetable truck as a beginning. . . . When he did break into radio while in high school, he netted 15-cent carfare for his services. . . . He tried band work with Buddy Morrow and Charlie Ventura then vocal spots at New York's Paramount Theater and the Copacabana. . . . Typical of entertainment people, Eddie was always working on holidays and that's what finally gave him his foothold on success. . . . On Labor Day in 1949 Eddie Cantor heard him at a New York resort center and asked Fisher to join his show-wagon. . . . Nothing like hitching your wagon to a star to make you one, too. . . . And Eddie Cantor, maker of many big stars today, was the best thing that ever happened to Fisher. . . . Back in 1954 when we last saw Cantor, he was doing mop-ups about the young vocalist with him. "What a voice!" he exclaimed. "And he's handsome, too. . . . He looks like Frank Sinatra were good-looking."

Eddie now has 24 years of life behind him, recordings that pass the hallowed million-sold mark each time they're released, and two years army service completed only this April. . . . You can't tell the stars from the stars on "Coke Time." . . . All Eddie wants to do is sing so he has actor Don Ameche do his hosting and add a guest vocalist every broadcast to make sure there's enough music singers like Morten Downey, Johnny Desmond, Marguerite Piazza, Gordon MacRae and Lucille Norman.

CARD OF THANKS

For all the kind expressions of sympathy, the friendly and so helpful deeds at the time of our bereavement, we are deeply grateful. May we extend a very special "thank you" to our old neighbors and friends at West Bethel for the beautiful flowers. Our sincere appreciation to Dr. S. S. Greenleaf and the Rev. Charles Pendleton.

Many people have the mistaken idea that it is perfectly proper to dispose of refuse by throwing it in to a lake or a stream. This is far from true. This unsightly trash floats around and often washes ashore making an unsightly fringe of trash on what would otherwise be a beautiful shoreline. THE SNAPSHOT GUILD

In this picture of three young people on a picnic, the bat provides an excellent center of interest and helps to tell the story.

"Stage" a Snapshot With Appropriate Properties

PROBABLY all of us have at some time or the other been connected with an amateur theatrical production. Thus we know that the play book lists the required properties right along with the cast of characters and the synopsis of the action. These properties are indeed essential to help tell the story.

That's why props should definitely be given consideration when we pose people for snapshots. We're all aware that story-telling snapshots are the ones we like best and the introduction of a simple prop can easily add to the impact of the picture.

The picture above features a baseball bat. Use of the bat in the picture of the three young people has several advantages. First of all, it provides a center of attention. It gives the subjects something to look at, something to do. The outdoor background suggests a picnic and the presence of the bat carries the story that baseball was one of the occasion's featured activities.

Props are good for subjects of all ages. Babies and adults alike respond to them. I once heard a professional photographer of babies say that the prop you give them as a center of attention is a "natural anchor" because it tends to keep the small fry where you want them. With a baby it will help keep the subject's interest at a high pitch long enough for you to snap a picture featuring a lively expression.

With adults you use props, not to "anchor" them in one spot, but to relieve camera shyness and add to the naturalness of the pose. And, of course, at 1 mentioned above to help tell the story... to establish a reason for taking the particular subject at the particular time... to help set the stage for the picture.

Choose your props carefully, to be in keeping with the natural situation, and you'll find that they can dramatize your snapshot, add life, interest, and naturalness to your subject. Make them work for you.

"EASY DOES IT"
BY HELEN HALE

WHEN you're baking, remember these tips and you'll get better results by putting this information to actual use.

Generally speaking, if you're supposed to bake a product for 30 minutes or less, it's best to pre-heat the oven. Roasts, oven meals, etc. which take longer to cook can be placed in a cold oven.

Leave at least an inch of space between pans and the inside wall of the oven as well as an inch in between pans themselves. This allows for even heat distribution and gives uniform browning.

Discard warped and discolored pans unless you want uneven browning results in your baking.

Cookies and biscuits rise higher and bake more evenly if you bake them on cookie sheets without any sides, than in pans with high sides.

Pans with warped or dented sides will heat more slowly than those with perfectly level bottoms and sides.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pineapple Punch
(Serves 25)

3 tablespoons green tea
2 cups orange juice
3 cups lemon juice
1 quart pineapple juice
4 cups sugar
3 cups water
1 quart pale dry ginger ale
1 quart lime ice

Pour 3 cups freshly boiled water over tea. Brew 3 minutes. Strain and cool. Blend together juices and tea infusion. Boil together sugar and water for 10 minutes to make a thin syrup. Chill and add to fruit juices and tea. Add enough ice and water to make 2 gallons. Add ginger ale just before serving with a tablespoon of the lime ice to top each serving.

Discard warped and discolored pans unless you want uneven browning results in your baking.

Cookies and biscuits rise higher and bake more evenly if you bake them on cookie sheets without any sides, than in pans with high sides.

Pans with warped or dented sides will heat more slowly than those with perfectly level bottoms and sides.

Anniversary at West Bethel School written by Mrs. Ethel Bennett Vashaw:

So it's anniversary time again. We meet in the old Grange Hall. Most of us have been here before. At the Grange or at a Ball.

We all have pleasant memories. As we sit around this hall. We look back on our school days. At the happiest of them all.

Many changes have been made. And time flies by so fast. But friendships and anniversaries arise. These are the things that last.

No doubt you all can remember. The days of West Bethel Fair. People came from miles around. And each one did their share.

Some of us have put on weight. With bulges in the wrong places. But it's so much fun to look around. And see all the familiar faces.

We wish you all the very best. And memories we all hold dear. We hope you enjoyed yourself today. And please come back next year.

think twice... YOU ONLY LIVE ONCE!

Getting where you're going in a hurry, isn't nearly as important as getting there in one piece.

And we prefer thinking of you as a warm-blooded person, rather than a cold, harsh accident statistic.

Hence we say, think twice as you drive this summer!

Think twice before you get behind the wheel of your car... think twice while you're driving... and think twice about the other driver who wants to live, too!

Drive Carefully...the life you save may be your own!

Health for All

—BLACK EYES

If you have a black eye and a piece of steak, eat the steak. There are lots of jokes about it, but a black eye is not funny. It may be dangerous.

Old compresses and the passage of time will cure most black eyes. Steam is an expensive type of compress. Wads of cotton or cloth, dipped in cold water, or an ice bag will serve the purpose. Place on the eye for 15 minutes every hour or so the first day. This treatment may prevent the bruise from becoming worse than necessary. The only thing that can be done after the first day is to try to camouflage it with cake makeup or face powder and try to suffer the pangs with good grace.

However, if vision is fuzzy or the eye is cut or painful a doctor should be consulted at once. Otherwise, serious permanent damage may result. Although the eye may hardly be discolored, a minor injury can cause serious damage. Even a light blow can be transmitted through the fluid of the eye with enough force to injure the retina. And a tear or separation of the retina means blindness forever in that part of the eye unless healing or surgery can put the separated part back where it belongs.

One of the miracles of modern surgery is the operation eye surgeons have devised to repair injuries to the retina. Tiny needles, carrying an electric current are inserted through the outer coat of the eyeball in the vicinity of the torn retina. The heat induces scars to form which join the retina with the underlying tissue.

After a number of these operations are necessary before vision is restored. It would be a lot simpler to don the patch or torn on the night before walking into a dark room.

NO COMMENT

by Walter Chamblin, Jr.

Capitol reaction to the Korean truce was two-fold: of relief that the shooting had stopped, and a determination to continue to keep the nation thoroughly prepared. High praise was accorded to Mr. Eisenhower for bringing about a cease-fire agreement in a war which the United Nations forced two years have made no effort to win.

Even the President's rabid opponents were guarded in their comment, for every mother, wife and sweetheart with a loved one in Korea or about to go there would rather have a none too satisfactory cessation of hostilities than a continuation of the conflict.

The effect upon legislation was unnoticeable. Congress continued to move toward early adjournment... handling legislation as it would have if there had been no Korean truce. If peace plans are worked out it is estimated that somewhere between three and five billion dollars can be saved in military expenses in the coming year.

Much legislation of importance to the pocketbook of every citizen is either finished or well on its way to completion. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is being liquidated. This agency, which had a useful purpose in depression days, has in recent years been a major competitor with private business. It is being replaced with an agency, known as the Small Business Administration, which will lend money to smaller firms that think requirements can be fulfilled only by government.

The act providing for the renegotiation of defense contracts is being extended. The Senate Finance Committee recommended two important revisions. One would increase from $250,000 to $500,000 the amount of contracts exempt from renegotiation and the other provides that "standard commercial articles" be exempted from renegotiation unless the Renegotiation Board specifically holds that such articles are not sold in a competitive market. There were also revisions designed to aid the synthetic rubber and machine-tool industries.

A last minute move is under way to preserve a tax exemption of $15,000 to $20,000 for American technicians assigned to foreign duty to aid in the industrial development of allied nations. This exemption was provided to induce technicians to accept such duty. But it developed that many high-salaried persons in the movie industry took advantage of this exemption and Congress, in seeking to close this tax loop-hole, came within a hair's breadth of closing it so tightly as to defeat the original purpose.

With action on appropriations for fiscal 1954 at the wind-up stage, the record for cutting down on spending is expected to result in a reduction of $15 billion from the Truman budget. This amount, however, does not satisfy the economy bloc, which points out that a recent study of expenditures discloses that over-all spending for the last 20 years reached the staggering total of $775 billion. This is three-fourths of a trillion dollars. It is ten times more than the total amount of all the money in circulation in the world.

The economy bloc further points out that when Mr. Roosevelt took office, federal spending was running at the rate of $4.7 billion yearly... that is Mr. Truman's last year it reached a peak-time high of $74.6 billion... and that during the last 20 years the federal government has collected $336 billion. This, the economy bloc holds, necessitates even more strenuous efforts next year to reduce appropriations. A move to assist in the attainment of this objective has been initiated.

"RIVER DRIVERS' DINNER"

AT LAKEVIEW

Something new in Maine's active summer events schedule is planned for this Sunday in Piscataquis County. A revival of the old time River Drivers Dinner will be put on at Lakeview seven miles from Mils, by the Three Rivers Fish and Game Club in conjunction with their 4th Annual Field Day.

The dinner consists of beans cooked in the ground Bean-Hot-Hot style as the main course, accompanied by hot biscuits and gingerbread made over open fires. The meal will be cooked by Clifford D. Mott, Lincoln, who admits to being "over seventy" and who has cooked on the old time river drives all of his life.

An active program of events will take place all day long with canoe racing, chain saw contest, water sports, outdoor racing and fly casting exhibitions scheduled.

The Three Rivers Sportsmen's Club made up of members from Mils, Brownville, and Brownville Junction plan to make this River Drivers Dinner an annual event here in central Maine.

LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

For going far and ferreting out trouble, no nation can hold a candle to us free and fancy folks of our USA. We are not satisfied to look for bees and bugs in our own machinery here at home—we gotta fix everything, everywhere. We roam the earth. Tranquillity and restfulness, and pleasant-like living are not ours any more. Who can be tranquil with the income tax guy banging on our door every month—or even every three months—and skimming off all excess, excess that was once deposited in our own joint account down at the one safe and sure place for dimes—the bank.

No nation could find itself in the mode or mood in which we find ourselves if it had not farmed out its thinking. No alert people would be so simple or suckleish as to open wide the USA Treasury door—and then take off for fun.

First off, folks have to take a night off from fun—stay home. You can't do much serious pondering on economics, socialism or the dim future of the nation or where you or your young off-shoots are going to get off, if the dame you are dancing with assays high in pulchritudinous qualifications.

Fun is alright—okay—I am for it, but horse-sense is also okay. Both is what we need. We been delouring the horse-sense route.

Yours with the low-down, JO SERFA

With seacoast, lakes, and forest streams, and lone Katahdin's glory. The beauty of Maine's countryside is told in song and story. But bottles, garbage, cans, and such, can spoil it all—we know it. So put that refuse in a can—don't just haul off and throw it!

When you meet careless, inconsiderate drivers on the road, give them the right of way without hesitation. Our State Police say this is much better than trying to meet their challenges. To one killed in traffic, it matters little who was at fault.
